

Private Boarding School

School Profile

Antelope Valley Christian Schools prepare young people through education to be leaders in their communities. The school is a young educational establishment founded in 1987. All students are expected to take responsibility not only for themselves and their school friends, but also for their society. Therefore, all students in the grades 7-12 are required to complete 24 hours of community service each academic year. AVCS offers all students a rigorous course study, preparing them for University studies. Over the last six years, 98% of its graduates have been accepted into a four-year University. Many are making their mark in top ranked schools, continuing in a path of integrity and academic discipline established at AVCS.
