

Lancing College - Lancing, West Sussex

Founded in 1848 Lancing College stands in 550 acres of farmland on the South Down hills and has superb views of the coast. Built around two quadrangles, the college resembles an Oxbridge college with its new developments linking together with the original buildings. The college offers a healthy and stimulating environment in which students can study and develop.

Lancing is a strong academic college and expects its students to study hard. The curriculum is varied and stimulating. Music plays an important role in the curriculum and the college has a distinguished tradition of instrumental and choral music.

Welcome to Lancing College:

We encourage students to enjoy the pursuit of learning and to explore their own intellectual capacities. Academic standards are high, the performance of the school being particularly strong in value-added terms. Our Curriculum is a broad one.

The Learning Support co-ordinator works with academic departments to help pupils achieve their full potential, and a member of staff is responsible for ensuring that pupils with particular gifts are given opportunities to develop and extend their academic interests beyond the curriculum.

Boarding facilities at Lancing College:

When pupils first join one of our nine boarding/day houses, they share working and sleeping areas in small groups. In the fifth and sixth forms pupils generally have their own study bedroom. All the houses have common rooms, as well as televisions, networked computers, videos and games facilities.

With housemasters and housemistresses, matrons, house tutors and their families living in and around the houses, there is a real community atmosphere. This, along with the vast array of activities on offer, makes boarding a wonderful experience.

School Ethos Overview:

Lancing College is a Christian foundation in the Anglican tradition. The College, set in outstanding countryside and housed in fine buildings, educates boys and girls to develop a love of learning and to reach their full potential, enriched by the arts and physical activities. It prepares young men and women of vision and integrity who will be of service to their fellow human beings.
