School Profile

Founded in 1893, TMI The Episcopal School of Texas is the oldest Episcopal college preparatory school in the Southwest. TMI is co-educational with over 400 students in grades 6-12. TMI offers a Residential Life program with up to 50 students each year. TMI students enjoy 100 percent college placement. In addition to challenging academics, students can participate in a variety of competitive sports, academically, hobby or skill-related clubs, and the theater and music programs. Over 1/3 of the student body participates in the nationally distinguished JROTC program, which boasts the award of Honor Unit with Distinction. All students study a college preparatory curriculum. Honors and Advanced Placement courses are offered in English, mathematics, science, history/social studies, studio art and languages.
